THREE-CORNERED SERIES PLANNED

A scheme is on foot to have a series of baseball games played in Honolulu during the coming season which will be unique in the history of the national game.

The idea is to have the Kelo University team of Japan and the Santa Clara College nine visit Honolulu during the regular season, if possible when the fleet is here, and play a series of games with a local nine, composed preferably of Hawaiian or part-Hawaiian players. Such a triangular series would have an international interest and would be the biggest baseball stunt ever pulled off in the Territory.

Santa Clara College has already declared its willingness to visit Hawaii and Kelo University would, it is believed, be willing to make the trip.

There was a meeting of representatives of the league teams and others at the Promotion Committee rooms at noon yesterday, at which the matter came up for preliminary discussion. St. Louis Alumni seem to have favored the idea of having the series played as a promotion adjunct and not as a money-making proposition. The Promotion Committee will be asked to take up the matter. Secretary H. P. Wood represented the committee at yesterday's meeting.

The plan outlined yesterday is to use all the proceeds to defray the traveling expenses of the teams and for their entertainment while here. If there is any surplus it will be devoted to promotion work. Should there be a deficit, it is expected that it will be met by a guarantee which the local merchants will be asked to furnish.

F. E. Steere was appointed a committee to take up the matter with the commercial organizations of Honolulu and ascertain their views on the matter. The Japanese merchants will also be invited to assist in the financing of the proposition.

There will be another meeting next Wednesday at the Promotion Committee rooms at noon.

CAPT. HARRIS TO NAVIGATE HAWAII

(From Thursday's Advertiser.)

The Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co. have granted the request of the Trans-Pacific Yacht committee to allow Captain S. J. Harris, now in their employ, a vacation for a period long enough to permit of his navigating the yacht Hawaii in the coming ocean race.

As Captain Harris, who is mate of one of the island steamers, sailed for another island last night, the committee were unable to get in touch with him in order to offer him the position. It is understood that he will accept the navigation of the Hawaii.

Capt. S. J. Harris is a splendid choice for the position to be offered him. With Alce Lyle as captain the combination looks hard to beat.

The S. S. Hiloian arriving from San Francisco yesterday brought the rigging and hardware for the trans-Pacific yacht. The masts and spars are coming via Tehantepec and are expected to arrive about the middle of April.

The following donations to the Hawaii were received yesterday:

E. O. White—Canvas for skylight and hatch covers.
Anne Marie Prescott—China plate with Hawaiian coat-of-arms.
Robert Rycroft—Sextant.
Henry Giles—Sailmaker's outfit.

SEASON STARTS ON MAY FIRST

(From Thursday's Advertiser.)

The Honolulu Baseball League had its annual meeting at the office of Frank E. Thompson at noon yesterday, present being:

F. E. Thompson, F. E. Steere, John Wise, U. Lemon, P. Gleason, and E. Fernandez.

Before the meeting was called to order the proposed triangular series between Kelo University, Santa Clara College and a local nine, was discussed.

Mikami is representing the Japanese in the matter and En Sue Kong is looking after the interest of the Chinese ball players.

It is estimated that the expenses of the series will be in the neighborhood of $6000, of which between $3500 and $4000 will be used for transportation expenses.

Santa Clara College want to come to Hawaii during their summer vacation which extends from June to September.

The meeting started with the reading of the minutes of the past year.

The following officers were elected to serve during the coming year:

D. P. R. Isenberg, president; Frank E. Thompson, secretary and treasurer. These gentlemen were the retiring officers but have done their work so well that it was decided to treat them to another term of office.

F. E. Steere suggested that the league and the trustees handle the financial end of the triangular series.

F. E. Thompson suggested that the division of profits after the payment of all expenses be left to an arbitration committee to be appointed by the financiers of the series.

Messrs. Steere, Lemon, Gleason, Wise and Fernandez were appointed a committee to draft plans for the series and to report to the league as soon as possible, the league to then present the plans to the trustees for their consideration.

It was decided that the season of the league shall consist of two series of nine Saturdays each, the first games to be played on May 1, June 1 and July 1 will be left open so as to give other sports a chance or to allow of the league putting on any special attractions which may present themselves.

It was mentioned that there are likely to be horse races on June 11, and that on July 4 a great many of the league players will be on Hawaii or Maui for the holiday.

Messrs. Steere, Gleason, Wise and Fernandez were appointed a committee to arrange the schedule of games.

Punahou will practice at the ball park on Wednesday and Tuesday. Thursday and Friday will be drawn for by the other teams. Monday will go in turn to each of the teams.

The meeting adjourned till the committee on schedule are ready to report.

NEW WIRELESS RECORD IS MADE

(From Thursday's Advertiser.)

Across thirteen hundred miles of space a message was flashed at nine o'clock last night to Honolulu from the U. S. A. T. Thomas. The complete message was not received but the operators at the Naval Station caught fragments of it. Had there been anyone on the receiving end at Barber's Point the whole message would have been caught, the location of that plant being infinitely superior to the one on the waterfront in the city with the trolley cars passing it every few minutes and interrupting the long distant waves with their electrical disturbances. Enough of the message was caught during the quietest moments, however, to tell that the Thomas was all O. K., the message being a weather report of the same nature as the one sent from that vessel nine hundred miles away on Tuesday night.

Thus, for the second time within twenty-four hours the local record for receiving was broken, the nine hundred-mile message caught by Operator A. A. Isbell, the expert now testing the system, at Barber's Point the night before, being the record up to that time. Heretofore the farthest the Naval Station wireless has received has been five hundred miles, taking a message at that distance a short time ago from the Thomas.

The messages being sent from Operator Farwell, aboard the Thomas, are according to a prearrangement with Mr. Isbell. When the Thomas was in port it was arranged that every night commencing at nine o'clock two or three attempts to call Honolulu would be made until the transport was two thousand miles away. The operator on the vessel set his watch with that of the expert here and is faithfully carrying out his part, although there is no possibility with the apparatus and power available at any of the Hawaiian stations to send back any replies. For two days yet the Thomas will be within the two thousand miles zone and it may be that each night for the next two the records will continue to be made.

In commenting on the work of the wireless last night, Mr. Isbell expressed his belief in the possibility of soon being able to keep in touch with transports and liners all the way from the Orient to the Coast. With modern and powerful plants on Midway and Guam to relay the messages and with a plant here powerful enough to send the waves at least half way to the Coast, this would be well within the range of practicability, although a plant with which communication can be maintained with the Coast direct is what is planned. It is to locate the place for erecting such a station that the expert is here.

"And we will have such a station before long for a certainty," said C. I. Hutchins yesterday. Mr. Hutchins is president of the local commercial wireless company and was delighted with the result of the receiving at Barber's Point by Mr. Isbell.

A message from the transport Sherman, which arrived at San Francisco on Tuesday, was received yesterday morning at the Naval Station, being relayed on by the Hiloian, which arrived at this port last evening. The message was received here at five o'clock in the morning, when the Hiloian was twelve hours out.

Just when the Hiloian caught the message from the Sherman is not known, nor how long she held it. It may have been when the transport was passing within a few miles of her or it may have been flashed across the greater part of the two thousand miles that now separates the two vessels.

Tonight and tomorrow night Mr. Isbell will spend at Barber's Point listening for the messages from the Thomas.

Extreme cruelty towards Mitza Obayashi on the part of her husband, S. Obayashi was justification yesterday for Judge Lindsay to sever the marriage bond uniting them, an absolute divorce being granted the abused wife.

Mr. Andrews is now trying to secure some action on the nineteen charges he has preferred against Judge Wilkey and claims that he can sustain them. He asserts that the case is not one particularly affecting him but that it reaches to conditions prevailing in Shanghai. A recent dispatch in the New York Herald, he said today, bore out his contentions that Judge Wilkey is friendly to two lottery organizations that have been established in Shanghai. That cablegram says:

"A sensation has been caused by the action of a British judge, Sir Haviland Sainsbury, of the British Supreme Court for China and Korea, who denounced the American Watch Club and its chief promoter, an American named Black, during the trial of a Britisher associated with the club, which was charged with defrauding thousands of Chinese and foreigners."

"The Judge's remarks were regarded as a most scathing comment on the procedure of the new American court, presided over by Judge Wilkey, as testimony was introduced to the effect that District Attorney Bassett gave legal advice to the club and that Judge Wilkey was cognizant of it. Mr. Denby, the American Consul General, resents the British Court's attitude."

"The Shanghai Municipal Council's budget retains the revenue from licensing opium dens in the settlement, but the sense of the ratepayers on the subject will be taken at a meeting."

SUES LILLEY FOR $40,000.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Frank B. Lord, late of the New York Sun's Washington bureau, today filed suit in the District of Columbia Supreme Court for $40,000 libel against Representative George L. Lilley, on account of the latter's alleged charge that Lord was employed by the Holland submarine boat people. The bill filed in the suit quotes what Lilley is alleged to have said concerning Lord's activities in behalf of the Holland boat.

SUPERVISORS ARE GOING TOO FAST

(From Thursday's Advertiser.)

"The Rapid Transit company has not the slightest intention of taking up its track on Queen street and abandoning that street as a part of its system. The matter has not even been considered."

In these words Manager C. G. Ballentine, of the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company disposed of the rumor that as a result of the determination of the Board of Supervisors to pave that street with blocks from Fort to Nuuanu the existing track there would be taken up. In making the denial Mr. Ballentine was most positive. "I guess they would like us to get off that street, but we do not intend to go," he added in conclusion.

The street car manager expressed himself as not at all in sympathy with the plan of putting down wooden block pavement at the present time, however. He considers that the Supervisors are showing too much haste in adopting the plan and thinks that the matter has not received the consideration it should before twelve thousand dollars is put into it, as authorized.

What he advocates is that the county sends some competent man on a tour of the cities of the Southern States where climatic conditions are somewhat similar to those in Honolulu, there to study the street work and see what others are doing. Then to report back to the Supervisors and on the basis of his report have a comprehensive scheme prepared and adopted for the laying of permanent streets throughout the entire business section of the city. To pay for this he proposes to floating of county bonds.

"Honolulu has no business to spend one cent for experiments," he said. "All the experimenting has been done and we should profit by it."

The interest being taken in the question of permanent street pavements by the Rapid Transit company is because by the terms of their charter the company is obliged to pave their right of way with the same material and at the same time as the pavement decided on is laid by the county. In the event of any particular pavement proving unsatisfactory and having to be replaced, the expense would have to be shared to quite a large extent by the company without their having anything to say about either the original pavement or the one chosen to replace it.

The question of paving Queen street with northwest blocks was settled at the last meeting of the Supervisors and cabled orders for apparatus for concrete mixing and bitumen laying have been sent to the Coast. The order for the blocks has not yet been sent and tenders for the supplying of these may be called for. In the meanwhile the macadam of the street is being patched to last until the paving is begun.

ANDREWS HAS SUPPORT OF KUHIO

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Hon. Lorrin Andrews, formerly of Honolulu, is in the midst of his fight here to bring about the impeachment by the National House of Judge Lebeus R. Wilkey, of the United States Court for China. He has been engaged for about three weeks in attending the hearing which a subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee, including Representatives Moon, of Pennsylvania; Diekmann, of Michigan; and Webb (Democrat), of North Carolina, has been conducting. Just now Mr. Andrews is busy making up his brief for the arguments before the subcommittee next week.

He feels that he has been dealt with roughly by the State Department and by the President and that this is due largely to political considerations. Judge Wilkey is a favorite of Secretary Taft and the moment that cropped out it seemed that all the power of the administration was being exerted to protect Wilkey, because any reflection upon his course would be to some extent to the discredit of Secretary Taft, who secured his appointment and who has stood behind him.

The Hawaiian representatives here have stood squarely behind Mr. Andrews. Judge Hatch, Delegate Kalamianole and Mr. George B. McCollan all went before the subcommittee to vouch for Mr. Andrews' good reputation and excellent character.

"I came here in October," said Mr. Andrews today, "and early in November filed my charges against Judge Wilkey. They were given to the President but referred to the State Department and to Secretary Root. Representative Waldo, of New York, who knew me when I was active in Brooklyn politics, stood sponsor for me before the State Department. Secretary Root notified me that Judge Wilkey would be sent for. I called for my law partner, Mr. F. M. Brooks, well known in Honolulu, and he came on here to assist me in the conduct of the case. We waited for a month and a half. Secretary Root finally sent word that he did not wish to see us and soon afterward I learned in the newspapers that the Secretary had dismissed our charges. I was given no opportunity whatever to present the documentary evidence and affidavits which I had gathered to prove my charges and we were bowled out quite as unceremoniously as one might have expected from a judge in the reconstruction days of this government."

"We found, of course, that we had fallen foul of the Taft campaign and that meant the case was to be closed out. Mr. Brooks wrote to Secretary Root but received no answer and then Mr. Brooks returned home."

"The charges were then presented to the House Judiciary Committee and a subcommittee undertook to investigate them. While I was in the midst of my testimony before the subcommittee, I received a request from Secretary Root that I call upon him. I could not do so at the time and within a few days after that the alleged vindication of Judge Wilkey at the hands of the President was issued."
